

Leif and I explore San Francisco by bike, Jan 30, 2026.

Start at the Bay, by the Bay Bridge

Something fishy is going on...

Cupid's bow-and-arrow.

Stop at Pier 39 for some fish-and-chips.

Sea lions resting by the pier.

Freeway 101 was recently rebuilt, with tunnels, and the resulting tunnel-top park has a great view of the Bay,

-- and is a good place for a quick rest.

We bike past the Presidio Cemetery, stopping for the classic "I was there" photo by the Golden Gate Bridge.

Down to Land's End,

and the Pacific Ocean.

A bike raceway in Golden Gate Park.

And the dragon says that it's time to head back home.
